What Is CQ Researcher?

CQ Researcher Online is an in-depth, unbiased information resource with coverage on topics relating to health, social trends, criminal justice, international affairs, education, the environment, technology, and the economy.

Each single-themed, 12,000-word report is researched and written by a professional journalist. It provides the reader with an introductory overview; background and chronology on the topic; an assessment of the current situation; tables and maps; pro/con statements from representatives of opposing positions; and bibliographies of key sources.

CQ Researcher is available through the Libraries Homepage. In the green "Research" box click on the Databases link, then scroll down the alphabetical list or use the link to jump to the "C" section of databases.

The Minion's Master Moves: Scan That

The S.W.A.T. Minions remind you…

Flatbed scanners are available at the S.W.A.T. Desk! The easy-to-use instructions are posted next to the scanning units.

Scan and print, or save your documents, photos, etc. to a USB drive (never to the computer's hard drive – it will disappear). If you don't have a USB drive handy, email the scanned files to yourself.

The S.W.A.T. Team is here and ready to assist you, if you have questions!

Cranial Candy: Word Of The Week

solicitude

PRONUNCIATION:

(suh-LIS-i-tood, -tyood)

MEANING:

noun: Care or concern for another.

ETYMOLOGY:

From Latin sollus (whole), ultimately from the Indo-European root sol- (whole), which brought us solid, salute, save, salvo, soldier, catholicity, salutary, and salubrious + citus, past participle of ciere (to arouse), ultimately from the Indo-European root kei- (to set in motion), which also gave us cinema, kinetic, excite, and resuscitate. Earliest documented use: 1412.

USAGE:

"We also meet 'Little', a 19-year-old on death row for robbing and kidnapping, whom the other inmates treat with tender solicitude after he wakes up in the middle of the night screaming and in tears."

Jenna Fisher; For a Song and a Hundred Songs; The Christian Science Monitor (Boston, Massachusetts); Jul 3, 2013.

Tech Term: Softphone

A Softphone is a software application on a user's computer that allows them to make "voice over IP" (VoIP) telephone calls as long as they have the appropriate peripheral hardware on hand.

Often a softphone is designed to behave like a traditional telephone, sometimes appearing as an image of a phone, with a display panel and buttons with which the user can interact. A softphone is usually used with a headset connected to the sound card of the PC, or with a USB phone.

Something To Think About:

I believe our true nature IS kindness and that when we are not acting out of fear we act out of love.
